Hungary: The recently announced expulsions from the Hungarian party probably signal the conclusion of the three-year purge of party careerists and administrators who retained their sympathies for the policies of former Stalinist party boss Matyas Rakosi. Kadar, who has retained only those Stalinists in the party who are loyal to him, probably took these steps in preparation for the party congress scheduled for November.

Another underlying motive for the ouster of Rakosi, Gero, and 23 others may be to enhance Kadar's respectability and thus pave the way for a visit to Hungary by acting UN Secretary General Thant. Thant, who is soon to tour the Soviet bloc, has maintained that he could not visit Budapest without some concession from the regime.
